HELENA CENTENNIAL
1864-1964

One hundred years ago, on July 14, 1864 to be exact, the four prospectors whom we call the Four Georgians wandered into a gulch angling out of the mountains and panned it as a "last chance" for discovery of gold.

Most of us, for the three years of our junior high career, viewed each morning in the entrance of the Helena Junior High the Shope painting which depicts this event. Three years later, as High School Seniors, we leave our school in a year which is not only the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Helena but also the centennial of the Territory of Montana.

First called Last Chance City, Helena received its name from the fondness of a prospector for his home of that name in Minnesota. Helena became capital of the Montana Territory in 1875 and capital of the state of Montana when statehood was achieved in 1889 — 75 years ago this year.

The "old" Helena High School still stands, a massive stone structure overlooking Last Chance Gulch, our main street. Another "old" High School is now the Helena Junior High. Our present Senior High School was opened the fall of 1955 with about half the number of students we have now, and enlarged with a west wing and an addition to the gymnasium facilities in 1963.

One "old" high school no longer exists. In 1935 quakes struck Helena and partially destroyed the High School, the current Junior High. The school year was completed in raiload cars parked in the Northern Pacific railway yards. They were hauled off when reconstruction permitted high school classes to resume.

One hundred years ago Last Chance Creek, flowing now under our city streets was a shallow trickle of water over a stream-bed heavy with golden wealth. One hundred years ago the site of our Senior High School was a sage-brush hillside on which Indians may have camped. A few years later Chinese came in, started gardening to furnish vegetables for the thousands of miners who had stampeded into Last Chance Gulch and the surrounding territory, and thereafter this point was known as the "Chinese Gardens."

There is still gold under the concrete of Last Chance Gulch, our main street, and there is gold under the foundation of the Helena Senior High School. Helena is, indeed, the heart of the gold county.

For many years a gold dredge worked within the city limits. Helena, and for that matter all Montana, developed because of the presence of the gold fields. Bannack, Virginia City, Confederate Gulch—the great golden gulches whence sprung the mighty Montana of today, the capital city of Helena, and our own Senior High School.

MONTANA, MONTANA, GLORY OF THE WEST.
OF ALL THE STATES FROM COAST TO COAST,
YOU'RE EASILY THE BEST.
MONTANA, MONTANA, WHERE SKIES ARE ALWAYS BLUE—
M-O-N-T-A-N-A, MONTANA, I LOVE YOU.

— Charles C. Cohan

Foreword

An annual is a pictorial representation of the events of the year. This year we hope to briefly express some of Montana's history by means of our various division pages.

Perhaps some things have been left out, and perhaps some things have been included that should have been eliminated.

The VIGILANTE staff has tried to bring you moments of the years 1963-1964.

The Broadwater Hotel and Natatorium

Located west of Helena, its enclosed swimming pool was the largest in the world. The buildings were extensively damaged in the earthquake of 1935 and now lie in ruins.

The same resort area was used as the theme for the 1964 Junior Prom.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

CLASS HISTORY

As our Junior year draws to a close, we the class of '65 can feel proud of the many accomplishments we have made.

Our class officers were: Bill Leaphart, President; Vic Kiesling, Vice President; Denise Feller, Secretary; Sunny Sando, Treasurer; and Steve Meloy, Representative.

Our Vigilante Princess candidates for the coronation, "The Girl of the Golden West," were Elona Rogers and Linda Lorenze.

In twirling Martha Wilkinson was elected Head Majorette, Marla Babcock, Head Baton, and Gail Cleveland, Head Flag.

Steve Johnson was chosen as Helena High School's representative to the United Nations.

The Junior Prom, under the theme of the "Broadwater Hotel," proved to be one of the best proms ever held.

We would like to express our appreciation to our class sponsors Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Bradford, and Mr. Janey.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

CLASS HISTORY

Boasting the largest class the Sophomores came bewildered into the halls of HHS. Soon, however, we were at home and began to take our place.

We elected as class officers: Dave Burton, President; Bruce Atkins, Vice President; Eileen Bach, Secretary; John Spitzer, Treasurer; and Shirley Eaton, Representative.

As Vigilante Princess Candidates we chose JoAnn Williams and Shirley Eaton. Royalty is in our class for Shirley was elected Princess.

We were very active in our first year of high school. Many students were in athletics. We also made up a large percentage of the various clubs and organizations in HHS.

We participated in the Vigilante Parade for the first time and enjoyed ourselves very much.

Looking over our achievements and accomplishments, we, the class of '66 feel proud and are anxious to do better in the coming two years.

We wish to thank our sponsors, Mrs. Flanagan, Mr. Annala, and Mr. Hoffman.

Faculty

The Helena Police Department 1891

ADMINISTRATION

MR. ANDERSON

As superintendent of schools in the Helena system, Mr. Anderson has the great responsibility of seeing that things run smoothly in each one of them.

It's not an easy job, but thanks to his ability our school seems to improve year by year. Certainly his influence and dedication has not been unnoticed.

MR. JOHNSON

During the past three years of his administration, Mr. Johnson has devoted his time and effort to make HHS the best high school possible.

Because of his capable management and creative interest, he has not only gained the devoted respect of many students, but he has also made the year a successful one.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. VOILES

Undoubtedly, Mr. Voiles is one of the most admired men on the HHS faculty staff. As assistant principal he has a great responsibility for HHS which he has handled very efficiently and successfully.

His devotion to the students and his work has been recognized by everyone. He is a man of great integrity, and really a "good guy."

MISS KATHRYN MEGARD

Thanks to Miss Megard, many students have received needed help and advice from a very good source. As Girl's Guidance Councelor, she has contributed much to HHS not only by suggesting solutions to problems, but also helping many make the right decision for their future.

Her influence is greatly appreciated, as is her dedication.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. CLARENCE SHIVELY

As Boy's Guidance Counselor, Mr. Shively works closely with each student helping him choose his vocation or suggesting solutions for his problems. For many years he has been an excellent counselor and he has contributed much to our school.

MRS. ROXANA WEDGWOOD

A familiar face at HHS, Mrs. Wedgwood can always be seen working out her financial problems in the office or assisting students in anyway she can. She is truly an asset to our school.

MRS. DOROTHY WILHELM

Although Mrs. Wilhelm has been at HHS for only one year, she has become very efficient in her position as secretary and she is known for her pleasant disposition toward all she associates with.

CALAMITY JANE

The theme of the 1963 Coronation, "Girl of the Golden West," reflects back to the era in which Calamity Jane was a well-known "girl" of the exciting West.

Royalty

"GIRL OF THE

The theme of this year's coronation, "Girl of the Golden West," was centered around Montana's Centennial. The decorations played a very important part in developing this theme. The coronation is one of the most memorable occasions to the students at Helena High and this year's coronation will long be remembered by all those who attended. A great deal of work and time by both students and faculty made this coronation a great success.

GOLDEN WEST"

Amid the beautiful recreation of Last Chance Gulch, Sandee Beach was crowned Queen Vigilante and Shirley Eaton Princess Vigilante. Behind the royalty stood an imitation of Mount Helena while at the east end of the floor other symbols of Helena's history helped express the rustic atmosphere of the coronation. The criers dressed as the Four Georgians portrayed the discovery of gold in Last Chance Gulch.

"The Girl of the Golden West" will certainly be remembered as one of distinction.

From room 154 many times the cry of Mike can be heard, Get into the room before Mr. Voiles catches you. Aside from the constant confusion during the sixth period the Vigilante Staff was able to complete the 1964 Vigilante.

In the few quiet moments that were possible the staff tried to provide and produce an annual that would bring many pleasant memories to all. It was created with the Student Body in mind.

The 1963-1964 NUGGET staff, headed by Julie Beck and Dennis Matthies, has consistently turned out fine papers for our school. This year's staff made several interesting and worthwhile changes in the format of our school's paper, such as the Bengalites, a section devoted to outstanding students in Helena High.

The rating of the NUGGET is much better than it has been in the past.

Much credit is also due the students in the journalism classes who spent time and energy writing the various stories which made the paper the success it was.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

G.A.A. OFFICERS

Lavita Poor, President; Marily Fitzgerald, 2nd Vice President; Mary Jo Miller, 1st Vice President; Peggy Hughes, Scribe; Vondene Zander, Treasurer.

The Girls' Athletic Association has been an active organization in Helena High for many years. The success of the organization can be shown by the fact that approximately 300 girls participated this year.

G.A.A. consists of many sports such as softball, volleyball, basketball, shuffleboard, table tennis, badminton, and archery. The organization is divided into a junior-senior league and a sophomore league. These two leagues play separately on Mondays and Thursdays respectively but compete together in tournament play.

By means of G.A.A., girls earn points toward membership into Girls' H-Club. Sophomores must earn 165 points to be eligible for membership and to stay in H-Club juniors must earn 75 points and seniors 50 points.

GAA provides fun and exercise to many HHS girls.

G. A. A. ACTION

INTRAMURAL

Intramural Athletics stimulates interest and participation among boys who do not letter or participate in varsity or junior varsity athletics. It provides a program of some 20 activities which the boys may take part in and earn points toward an Intramural award given to the highest point winners at each year's Award's Assembly.

(Front to back) Jim Hudson, President; Randy Hewitt, Rick O'Connell, Sophomore Representatives; Bill Houston, Bill Leaphart, Junior Representatives; Jon Andrews, Mike Neely, Senior Representatives.

STATE CHAMPIONS

LLOYD EK

An outstanding participant in three of the major sports at HHS, Lloyd has proven himself to be one of the finest athletes in the state. In 1963 Lloyd won the 180 pound class wrestling title, and in the spirit of a true champion, he retained his title in the 1964 season. He was a three year letterman in track and also in wrestling, where he was co-captain of the team. In his first year of participation in football, Lloyd demonstrated his capability as fullback by receiving an honorable mention All-State award.

In his first year of high school competition Roger has earned a name for himself in state skiing circles. State Champion in the slalom at the state high school meet in 1964, he also won first place in the downhill at the Northern Divisional Meet in Bozeman, the same year. He was chosen as a member of the Montana team that attended the Junior Nationals at Alpine Meadows, California, and he also participated in the Western States Junior Championships at Sun Valley. Roger is expected to form the nucleus of the ski team for the next two years.
